Thanksgiving

On the last Thursday in November in midst of huge cities, tiny farms, and in thriving towns like Nevada City and Grass Valley, America turns to celebrate Thanksgiving. The turkey and the mince pie are but symbols. Beneath the holiday jollity the heart beats high with love of country not to be expressed in words. It's a very real thing. Be thankful, America!

NUGGET COMICS

HERE THEY ARE! ...

The NUGGET now has COMICS! Something for our readers to be thankful for. They start today (Insert Page A).

There are four of them, each one crammed with giggles, laughs and number one fun. You'll like all four — MUTT AND JEFF, the time honored classic; MUGGS AND SKEETER, the story of an intrepid little boy whose sayings are almost as cute as your own child's; POP, the fat man who is the master of the acid phrase; VIRGIL, a busy little boy who doesn't say much, but my, what he does!

NO NUGGET THURSDAY

The Nugget has something to be thankful for, too! It's taking a holiday Thursday, so don't be surprised when you don't get your paper.

The Nevada City-Grass Valley Nugget wishes all it's readers and advertisers a mighty pleasant Thanksgiving with plenty of turkey and all the trimmings and lots of relatives gathered around to celebrate the big day.

Next publication will be the usual Monday issue on December 2.

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Traffic deaths and injuries are mounting. The state of California leading in this holocaust of the roads, as it does in population growth, farm income, and many desirable things, is pausing as it were, to take notice.

Our private view is that too many irresponsible people are driving cars. These irresponsible ones ought to be deprived of the privilege of driving. The business of revoking driving permits and seeing to it that reckness and drunken drivers are not permitted to drive, we observe, is not prosecuted with anything like sufficient vigor.

In our view any driver who has been cited twice for reckless or drunken driving should be deprived of his license to drive for a year at least, and better still, permanently.

In the matter of fines and imprisonment we believe too much is left to the discretion of the lower courts. The minimum penalty for drunken driving, for instance, is a $50 fine. When a justice of the peace imposes this fine and then suspends $25 of it, he has in effect gently slapped the drunken driver's wrist. The minimum fine, in the first place, is too small. It should be much larger and the alternative jail sentence strictly enforced. If it is proposed to give the justice of the peace discretion than his discretion should be limited between a low and a high, with the lower penalty considerably higher than it is now.

It is interesting to observe that the same offender in two different lower courts will receive hadically different punishment. In one court a drunken driver is given a fine, say, or $100 or 50 days in jail. In another court, he will be assessed $200 or a 100 days in ....ail. Or for killing a deer out season, a man will be fined $200, while for drunken driving he will be fined perhaps $100, whereas we believe the drunken driver, menacing as he does the lives of pedestrians, other car owners and property of all kinds, is

FOOTBALL SQUAD DINNER GUESTS OF METHODISTS

Complimented on the achievement of the football season Nevada City high school's squad turned out in force for the dinner provided at the Methodist church Friday night by the committee of the church on Youth Recreation. The bountiful and sumptious meal was provided and managed by this committee, with the aid of numerous friends. Chairman of the committee is Dolly Peterson. Her associates are Alice Larson, Mae Norton, Helen Schribner, Lois Larson and Emma Moore. There were also volunteer helpers besides.

Guests for the evening were Ed Frantz, principal of the high school, Coach George Abbott, Lloyd Geist, principal of the elementary school and Rev. Joseph W. Moore, minister of the church, who also acted as host and impromptu toast master. Games and amusements were provided which raised gales of laughter and it was a high moment when Mr. Moore presented the ladies who had made the affair possible. The boys gave them a wonderful hand.

There was also great applause for Coach Abbott when Dale Berger, on behalf of the squad, presented him with a wift case containing a beautiful set of cuff links, studs and chain.

The inclement weather did not deter more than three or four of the players. Coach John Lewis of the second team was unable to be present on account of illness.

Modesty!

When Ward Sheldon at the Elks Football Dinner Thursday made Keith Marsh the award of Yellowjacket "most outstanding player of the year,' Keith was called upon to make a speech—his words are worthy of note.

"I appreciate this a lot" said Keith, "but I think you fellows made an awful mistake. There are a number of players who are just as good as I am."

Then Keith pointed out a number of players whom he considered deserved to have the honor. Young Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Marsh of 219 Prospect Street, is president of the high school student council.

State Wants Nevada County Land - No Sale!

SUPERVISORS SEE BETTER FUTURE FOR TRACT THAN FORESTRY EXPERIMENT

NEVADA CITY: State Forester DeWitt Nelson appeared before the Nevada County Board of Supervisors Friday, accompanied by members of his staff, asking the board to ratify the purchase of some 800 acres on Banner Ridge south of this city, which he proposed to devote to forestry experimental work.

The land, he stated, is cut over acreage of comparatively low value for agricultural uses. Nelson stated that the state will pay taxes to the county as do other owners.

The supervisors, however, refused to consider the proposal for the present becouse of a resolution passed recently by the California Association of Supervisors which in effect turns thumbs down on more transfers of land either to state or federal ownership, due to the loss of taxes which such transfers of land entails. Although the state does pay taxes and the feleral government does not, the local board took the view that the land the state desires to purchase, will be put to higher use. The board expressed the opinion that with the tremendous increase in the last decade of recreation seekers, this land will in time be worth far more to the county as a recreational area, for summer home sites, and public parks than it would be if converted into a experimental timber project. It was pointed out that the district already contains summer homes, notably at Alta Pina and that other lands are now being subdivided for that purpose.

The state forester noting that the chief objection by the supervisors association was the loss of taxes that such transactions entailed, stated he would take the matter up with the directors of the association so that some distinction might be made between the state, which does pay taxes and the federal government which pays none. The request of Nelson was tabled.

The supervisors yesterday continued its count of absentee ballots.

SNOW

NEVADA CITY: The State Division of Highways headquarters just outside the city limits yesterday reported that Highway 20 is open but chains are required from Washington Junction to Highway 40. The Yuba Pass Highway is closed above Sierra City, in Sierra County due to heavy snowfall. Highway 49 in open as far as Sierra City.

Three inches of snow are reported at Washington Junction, 10 inches at Steep Hollow and 4 inches at Bear Valley, on Highway 20.

Thirty three inches of snow is reported on Yuba Pass Summit.

The storm which ended here Wednesday night brought approximately 6 inches of rain to the Nevada City-Grass Valley area. Total rainfall to date, the US Weather Bureau here announed was eleven inches.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder when the skies grow dark
Above this land of golden hours,,
How through the misty veils of rain,
We still can glimpse the coming flowers;
For winter is not winter here,
In this fair land beside the sea,
But just an interlude between
Bright autumn and spring's mystery.

The first heavy rains of our so called winter season came with the rush of wiind and the sound of driven rain; but no one was disturbed for we welcome this seasonal demonstrations and looking ahead visualize another year, which we hope will be a brighter and better year than any we have yet known.

We Americans have great cause for the celebration of an extra special Thanksgiving this year and we Californians should sing and rejoice with more heartfelt unthusiasm than the citizens of any other state in the union. I need not enumerate the blessings enjoyed by those who live in the hills and valleys of this great common wealth. Each one of us can do that for himself; but often when I hear the falling rain which breaks the long summer drought, I wonder if we fully realize the privileges of life in a land of "clouds and flowers, of sun and sky."

No matter what her moods, California never loses her prestine charm and as the seasons come and go, each one is distinguished by a peculiar beauty that is all its own and loveliness is never absent from these our hills and vales of home.

I think we should celebrate Thanksgiving very happily this year; and with a unity of thought and purpose which would bring us closer to one another, break down the barriers which divide us whatever they may be, and fill us with a loyal love for this, our native land, her liberties, her institutions and for the future which we are called upon to plan and work for.

What does our country need?
More faith in one another,
Less faith in time worn creeds,
More kindly words out spoken
Are what our country needs.
More faith in human service,
Less faith in old time ways;
More voices saying "brother,"
More hope for coming days.
Less carping criticism,
More standing side by side;
Our little paths are narrow,
That should be smooth and wide.
The differences we cherish
Are figments of a dream,
Less than the fragile bubbles
Upon a rippling stream.
More faith in our alikeness
In heart and mind and deeds,
More truth in daily service
Are what our country needs.—Adeline Merriam Conner.

WHAT DOES NEVADA CITY NEED MOST?

The state of the town is again our topic. Your reporter put the question to the following interesting and varied people and got the following interesting and varied answers.

GEORGE R. CROSBY

The things it is working on right now—the airport and the park.

GILBERT SCHULDT

There's a beautiful feature of this town that's entirely neglected—Deer Creek. People dump swage and garbage into this stream that could be made into one of the town's most attractive assets. A grand picnic place could be created out by the County Hospital where the ground levels off a little. That's the way they beautify cities down below, and up here we have a lot more to work with then they do. The charm of Deer Creek should be emphasized and made a center of interest. Furthermore, it's pretty early in the morning to be asking deep questions like this—but there's my answer.

H. S. (BERT) FOREMAN

There are so many things that it's difficult to say where to begin. The town's basic need is economic—for a bigger payroll—for the mines to operate full blast. Other things, improvement of the airport and park, co-operation between city council and chamber of commerce, are secondary.

LEONARD LAGESON

More apple orchards. There's a tremendous demand here for apples and not enough apples to go around.

JACK HODGE

More money in circulation.

GORDON TRYON

Some new blood. Kick the parking meters right into the nearest snowdrift and forget about them. What we need is a couple of good parking lots instead. They've had plenty of trouble with parking meters in other towns. This town is too small for parking meters — they're okay in some big metropolitan center.

HAROLD BERLINER

A tangible objective—and then have everyone get together and work for its achievement. We must ask ourselves what we want answer the question and then go after it. Do we want to be picteuresque? If so, we should strive to maintain the present qaint charm of our streets and prevent commercial modernistic architecture from spoiling it. Do we want to be modern? If so, let's go after modernistic buildings. Another good idea is the one I saw in the Nugget a few days ago—plant 200 maple trees for Arbor Day—can't think of anything that would put the town on the map quicker. Our civic leaders ought to start thinking about that one right now—raising money and lining up the saplings—so that when Arbor Day comes around, all the civic and youth organizations can get together and actually plant 200 eastern maples. The town could not possibly lose on that deal.

MAX FLINDT

Every business house in Nevada City and Grass Valley should be assessed $1 per month apiece. The money should be used to hire a full-time man. This man's duties would be to get signatures from every man and woman in this area on a resolution asking congress and govenment officials to grant some relief to the gold mining industry. The cost of living is rising 2 per cent a month. In the gold mining camps throughout the country the mainstay of support has been removed. As the cost of living goes up, so will the price of labor and the cost of operating the mines. Eventually more and more will be forced to close down completely. If we got up a resolution now and started collecting names immediately, the mammoth list of signatures would be eady to impress congress at a time, a few months hence when the need of the gold mining counties is most severe.

OLAF BERGENDAHL

The same thing the rest of the world needs right now—a little more of "live and let live." And that applies to politics, labor and finance.

CORAL MACPHERSON

Better entertainment on Saturday night.

A GOOD LOOKING BUT UNIDENTIFIED COUPLE

A recreational center for young people. Except or a couple of good soft drink parlors, there's no place for the kids to hang around at night but bars and corner of Broad and Pine. There should be a rereational program.

H. F. (SI) SOFGE

A city manager, more than anything else. A man who would co-ordinate all city activities under one head. One man to have the authority and do all the buying. He could save his own salary out of the thousands and thousands of dollars the city spends every year. The town's not too small to support a city manager on that basis.

MILO IVES

This town doesn't need anything. It's just about the nicest little town in the world. Everything about it is fine and I'm all for it. It's got every thing.

JOSEPH DAY

Confidence in itself—to realize this is God's own country and to get along without so much complaining.

BILL STENGER

Nevada City is okay—there's nothing wrong with it but what comes in from the outside. Washington is all mixed up and John L. Lewis is raising Cain as usual—these things are bound to effect even our town.

FLOY MARGARET REYNOLDS

Better transportation—it's worth your life to get from here to Sacramento and back on the public transportation system.

committing far more of a crime against his fellow men than the chap who shoots a deer out of season. It just doesn't make sense.

There is something about a car that seems to enlarge the ego of a young man already too well endowed with ego. He is master of a powerful mahine, it often seems, and let other folks lookout for themselves while he breaks most of the traffic laws and rgeulations. There are not patrolmen enough, nor policemen, to hold those egomaniacs within reasonable bounds. As we see it, the only sure method of taking them out of circulation on the highways is to deprive of the right to drive, And, if after being deprived of his license he is again found behind a wheel, make the yenalty severe, six months in jail, and no discretninary reductions of the sentence on the part of the lower courts.

We are convinced that some people are constitutionally unfitted for driving a car. Some are too nervous and too easily frightened. Others experience a kind of wild excitement and elation in speed. And others, because of their addiction to drink become roving juggernauts, a continuing menace to their fellow men on the road, at crossings, and in the streets. These should not be permitted to drive at all after the first offense. Why should any man who observes the traffic laws and the courtesies of the road, be subjected to the homicidal vagaries of a drunken driver.

The cure for the mounting toll of death on the highways, as we see it, is a general tightening up of the traffic laws. More drastic punishment for reckless and drunken driving, less discretion left to the lower courts, and a better educatoin of young drivers as they take their places behind the wheel. We think the police and the highway patrolmen are doing a good job. The breakdown comes in the lower courts and the varying standards of the individuals sitting in judgment. There is too much sympathy for the offender and not enough for those who have either been injured or threatened with injury.

Some one of these days an election bet is going to be paid off and Sheriff-elect Dick Hoskins will be wearing a gold badge. It was a case of "if you win" we'll buy you a solid gold sheriff's badge. "When I win" said Dick, Anyway, the Hoskin's bowling team partners have promised him the golden emblem of Nevada County authority. "But please don't make it a flashy one," said Dick. "just one to fit in the lapel buttonhole."

Don't forget folks that on the night after Thanksgiving that the second Twin City Community Concert will take place with John Sebastian, the harmonica virtuoso as artist of the evening. Remember you can take your out of town Thanksgiving guests free just by signing their names in the lobby register. After the first successful concert in October the question of what to wear should have found it's answer. Most of us will come dressed as the average folk we are but some of the rugged individualists will be there in formals, white tie and tails. Rugged individualists, God bless 'em. See you Friday at Veterans Building.

We saw "My Darling Clementine" at the Broadway Theatre in Nevada City last night and thought it was a grand old western, one that the entire family will enjoy. "Westerns" are swell escape entertainment and when they are produced in the grand manner of "My Darling Clementine" they are all the more enjoyable. It's directed by John Ford who made the memorable "Stage Coach" of several cinema seasons back. Clementine is the story of Wyatt Earp, the marshal of Tombstone and the vengeance he wreaked on the Clanton crowd. It's far beyond the scope of the average western. You'll see some spectacular scenery of Monument Valley in Arizona.

The old bird on the table this Thursday is going to cost you from 49c to 90c a pound. (That's not a type error—we said 90c). Butter is 90c a pound. Brandy for the plum pudding will set you back a pretty penny. If you eat out (and the Thanksgiving trend in recent years is to go to a first class restaurant) your dinner will probably start at $2.00). Why are we writing all this? Just so the Nugget will have an item of comparison when it's column "75 Years Ago in the Nugget" is written for Thanksgiving week in the year 2021.

What's the angle? Let's drop down a block to Main and Auburn and look up Main Street and down Auburn and wonder which way the business district is going to grow. In the last few years the trend has been out Auburn Street but there are those that believe that a business district follows the construction and direction of its residential section which of late has been up Main spreading out over Alta Hill and in the Sunset district. A business district in a growing city is always in a state of flux. Whither direction, Grass Valley?

Did you notice those sexy wow pictures in the Nov. 18 issue of 'Life' entitled "Life Goes To an Apache Party?" They show life can be fun at the University of California and the annual Apache Party of Theta Chi fraternity will bring out the gams of the week. All this wouldn't be worth a Main at Mill item, except that Grass Valley's own Howard Clary is a Theta Chi and reports it was some party. "Co-education," I'm for it" says Clary.

NEVADA CITY LONG AGO

NEVADA CITY 75 YEARS AGO

Cashin and Kent's pork packing establishment in this city was a lively place. The firm had been relying on the markets of the state and frequently found it difficult to procure hogs during the winter as fast as they could use them. Cashin and Kent therefore made arrangements for buying hops from the corn growing regions of the east. They contracted with a man in Des Moines, Iowa to deliver at Colfax one thousand hogs per month at six and a half cents per pound. The first lot had just arrived by overland train.

The United States Deputy Marshal arrested J. Kitts, C. Foster, Wm. Montgomery, a man named Butler and two Chinamen for cutting timber on public lands in Willow Valley. The arrest was made on complaint by Mr. Bechtal, under an old law and it was said that no arrests would have been made had the parties gone on lands which were not claimed under the pre-emption law. The parties arrested claimed they were cutting on public lands and the timber was to be used for mining purposes, making them not guilty. The matter was to come up in the United States court at San Francisco.

The board of trustees of the Nevada Library Association met at the hall of the library on Pine Street. The report of Jno. W. Hinds, treasurer, was submitted and approved. The rent bill for nine months $90, and the gas bill $13.10 for the same period of time were allowed. During the year books were taken out as follows: 436 novels, 6 travels, 6 general literature, 8 scientific, 11 poetry, 18 history and biography.

There was to be racing and a turkey shoot at Glenbrook Park. Horses entered in the first race, a mile heat and repeat, were Wm. Hobbys horse Frank, Joe Perrin's brown horse Sagebrush, and Seth McCain's bay mare Ellen Harkaway. The second race was a trotting race and entered were Henry Scadden's bay mare Flora, and John A. Lancaster's bay horse Dan.

The third race was a single dash of half a mile for all saddle horses in the county. Pools for the races were being sold by W. H. Davidson at the National Exchange Hotel. Colt revolvers were to be used in the turkey shoot and the distance was to be twenty five paces from the head.

Arrangements for the program and an entertainment are under way. Methods of recruiting more teachers were discussed and stress was laid on Christmas activities as an inducement to parents to become Sunday school teachers.

Bishop Noel Porter of the Sacramento diocese met with boys and girls of the Sunday school Sunday.

THANKSGIVING IN THE CHURCHES

Thanksgiving 1946 — Service of Thanksgiving Wednesday November 27th, Thanksgiving Eve 7:30 p. m., followed b a scoial evening in the parish hall .

THE RECTOR'S THANKSGIVING MESSAGE

The spirit of Thanksgiving is an age long institution at the very dawn of history we read of the sons o Adam offering thanks to God, and of the tragedy that followed. Here in can be found the real crux of the whole attitude towards being thankful.

There are many things for which we should be thankful and every act of worship in the church is centered around this thought; we are thankful for the spirit in the church, which will not cease until it joins all nations and kindreds and tongues and peoples into one great family; for the work of the spirit of the church in the deepening sense of human worth and in the growing reverence for womanhood and childhood; for the work of the spirit in the growing desire for true brotherhood, between men of every class and nation; for the work of the spirit in the triumph of truth over error, for the work of the spirit in science and commerce, in literature and art for the work of the spirit in the history of our own country, through its heroes and leaders, in statecraft, law and industry, for the work of the spirit in the history of the world, through peaceful advance and through pain and triumph and for the work of the spirit within and beyond the bounds of the visible church.

Above all I think that Thanksgiving genders a far greater consciousness within us all of the great need of greater expressions of love one toward the other and I close my message to you with the words of the poet, T. C. Clark;

We Thank Thee

Not for our lands, our wide flung prairie wealth,
Our mighty rivers born of friendly spring,
Our inland seas, our mountains
proud and high,
Forests and orchards, richly
blossoming;
Not for these, Lord, our deepest
thanks are said
As humbly glad we hail this day
serene;
Not for these most, dear Father of our lives,
But for the love that in all things is seen.

May the true blessings of Thanksgiving tide rouse within us all the deeper indwelling consciousness of gratitude.

ANGUS MILLER,
Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church.

SUN TIME

Happy news for prospective sun bathers at Palm Springs during the winter season is the announcement of Mayor Clarence Hyde that starting November 17 daylight saving time will be the official time for the desert vacationland. The measure was enacted to combat the early winter shadows cast upon the city by Mt. San Jacinto which towers some 11,000 feet above Palm Springs. This novel enactment will be in effect for 120 consecutive days during the winter months.

The second recorded sighting of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado was in 1776 by Spanish priests, Padre Garcas and Padre Escalante.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

The public is cordially invoted to attend the Thanksgiving Day service to be held by Christian Science Society of Nevada Ciyt next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

A specially prepared lesson sermon entitled "Thanksgiving" comprised of citations from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read on this occasion. One of the Bible citations in this sermon is Psalms 34:3. "O mighty the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together" A correlative passage from Science and Health reads: "Let us learn of the real and eternal, and prepare for the reign of Spirit, the kingdom of heaven—the reign and rule of universal harmony, which cannot be lost nor remain forever unseen."

This service will also include silent prayer followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation from the Christian Science textbook, a solo, congregational hymn singing, testimonies appropriat to the occasion given by Christian Scientists in the congregation and the reading of the proclamation of the president of the United States or of the governor of California. The service will close with the Scientific Statement of Being from the Christian Science textbook and its correlative Scripture according to I John 3:1-3 followed by the benediction.

Similar services in observance of Thanksgiving day will be held by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ ,Scientist, in Boston and its branches throughout the United States.

TURKEY DINNER FOR NDGW

GRASS VALLEY: The Past Presidents Association of the Native Daughters of the Golden West held their annual turkey dinner Thursday night. November 21st, at the home of Mrs. Beatrice George on Couway Avenue.

The business meeting of the association followed with Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan of Nevada City, president in charge.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Gratitude is an essential and unseparable quality of true culture. It is, like love, expendable, but inexhaustible. The more lavishly sincere thanksgiving os poured out, the more abundantly it wells up. It becomes an overflowing well-spring of enrichment and refreshment for the grateful personality. It is also an unfailing power, healing all kinds of social stress and inner frustration. Like all arts it has a natural flowering in the original impulses of human nature, and needs only to be touched alive by the faintest spark of kindness and goodwill to glow in radiant beauty. But we well know it cannot be forced or strained without being turned into hateful sham and affectation.

Also, like art, it needs to be cultivated or it will die. Whether rich or poor, healthy or sick, famous or unknown, that person who does not consistently practice the grace of expressed appreciation for benefits received in daily life will shrink and shrivel in soul until the light of his countenance darkens and becomes a veritable living death.

Especially to be pursued is the grace of giving thanks in the midst of difficult circumstances. Consider our Pilgrim Fathers, who after that first year of unspeakable woe and physical hardship, gave voice to the sentiments and principles of gratitude which remain the foundation of our present day national Thanksgiving observance.

We do well to cherish this nateionally acknowledged grave of thanksgiving. Let us remember our blessings—"count them one by one". Let us not forget that "In God we trust." And let our faith, which is the rich heritage of the religious fervor, moral vitality and energetic resourcefulness of our forefathers surge upin a great, living force, so that the new age we now usher in may be, under God, worthy of that sublime heritage.

For the beauty of the earth,
For the glory of the skies,
For the love which from our birth
Over and around us lies;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
This our hymn of grateful praise.

GALA WELCOME FOR U.S. LUXURY LINER 'AMERICA'

FASTEST AND FINEST PASSENGER SHIP to be built in the U.S., the luxury liner America is given a gala welcome as she comes into New York harbor after a test run from Newport News, Va. Known during the war as the U.S.S. West Point, the flagship of the U.S. Lines carried 400 guests and was put through a routine of zig-zags, speed tests and sharp turns in the course of her trip. Almost completely redecorated and rebuilt, the America will carry 1050 passengers when she starts on her regular Atlantic run. (International)

HOT CLOTHES START FIRE

GRASS VALLEY: The Grass Valley Fire Department were called on last Thursday morning to put out a fire in the home of Jess Younkers on East Main Street. The fire was started when a line of clothes strung diagonally across the kitchen caught fire from the stove. Prompt action with a fire extinguished resulted in only minor damake.

TRAFFIC STATISTICS

Urban traffic deaths for the month of September amounted to 880 throughout the country in comparison with 2060 rural deaths from the same cause. Statistics emphasize more than words the need for slower speed on the open highways, particularly after dark when visibility is greatly reduced both for the pedestrian and the motorist.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Lesson In Conservation

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, chatting over a glass of beer—when the talk turns to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Judge Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far bigger problem when it comes to conservation—and that's preserving our democratic way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

From where I sit, the Judge is right. All America's great resources, our abundant natural wealth, are lost the minute we lose the right to work them as free people in a free land!

Whenever you see or hear of an encroachment on our rights—whether it's the right to free speech, or the right to vote as we see fit, or the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in licensed, law-abiding places . . . watch out!

Veterans' News

Veterans of World War II who are working full time and would like to continue their educations with correspondence courses may do so through the GI Bill and the veterans administration.

Any veteran who is eligible for education is also qualified to take one or more correspondence courses.

Application can be made in person or by mail at the nearest VA office, where information ragerding approved schools and courses is available.

Time spent in studying by correspondence consumes only one quarter of a veteran's education entitlement. However, if such study gives college or university credit and the veteran is enrolled for six or more credit units, one half of the time spent in completing the courses will be charged against his entitlement.

For example, if a veteran who is entitled to three years of education spends one year completing a correspondence course, he will have used only three months of his education entitlement—one quarter of the time used to finiish the course.

If the same veteran should take two courses from the University of California that give three credits each and require four months to complete, two months will be charged against his entitlement—one half of the time spent on the courses.

VA will pay up to $500 for the complete cost of all correspondence work taken, including equipment that is normally required. In no case will a subsistence allowance be paid.

Whatever education entitlement is left over when the veteran has finished his correspondence courses may be used for any other type of approved educational pursuit, including on the job training.

A veteran may enroll for a supplemental correspondence course while taking on the job training if he is unable to attend similar classes operated by local schools.

Q: Do I have to take physical examination to reinstate my GI insur-

A: No. A physical examination may not be necessary if you apply for reinstatement before February 1, 1947 or within six months after your policy lapsed—whichever is later.

Q: If I borrow money from the VA on my convverted GI insurance what interest will I have to pay?

A: The new rate of interest on such loans is 4%.

Just because we have free speech in this country some people think they can give out a lot of cheap talk.

INSURANCE RATE FOR COUNTY IS CUT 49 PCT.

Joseph J. Gallagher, manager of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, has announced that the County of Nevada and its employees established an excellent safety record during the year ending February 7, 1946. As a result the county has reduced its workmen's compensation insurance cost by 40% of the premium. This saving was in the form of of a cash dividend amounting to $900.61.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Latest reports on the Boy Scout appeal in the Tahoe area council showed that almost 70% of the objective has been achieved and that those communities which have not as yet reached their goals were pressing towards them with concerted effort on the part of all leaders. G. E. Kreatz general appeal chairman, announced today that Auburn, Downieville and Truckee were over the top and that Penryn-Newcastle and Colrax were in the final lap of their appeals. He emphasized the point with local chairmen that the goal was now within the realm of attainment and that those communities which had not reached the same status should bend every effort to do so. It will be a turning point in the history of scouting in the Tahoe area council, not only for making the program of cubbing, scouting and senior scouting available to more boys but also a better job of field service to volunteer leaders who give attention to camping and activities, leadership training and the gamut of cubbing, scouting and senior scouting through out this far flung area of Placer, Nevada and western Sierra counties.

Alvin F. Carveth chairman of the Tahoe area scout council's leadership training committee reported at the executive board meeting held last Tuesday that a successful training conference had taken place last week end at the state forestry headquarters near Auburn. Approximately 25 present leaders and prospective leaders attended and earned certificates in basic scoutmaster's training and troup camping. It was noted that Messrs. Gates, Carveth and Knudsen are already holders of the coveted five year training award, Knudsen holding the scoutmaster's training key. The following received certificates: Alvin F. Carveth, Fred Knudsen, Auburn, G. B. Vance, Nevada City, Howard Tryon, Nevada City, R. V. Conrad, Nevada City, Jack Landis, and J. M. Warner of Auburn; C. W. Lauppe and Philip H. Leak of Roseville, Sam Medlyn and Clarence Graham of Grass Valley, H. A. Snelling of Penryn; Gordon Tryon, Nevada City, Sayre Hutting, Roseville, Earl Gates, Loomis, Blair Eddy, Colfax and Jack Gordon of Auburn.

Those who gave leadership to the course were: Alvin Carveth, Edmund Jackson, Earl Gates, Philip Leak, Gordon Vance, Robert H. Frank, Capt. George Peterkin, Harold E. Chastain, Fred Knudsen, Jack Landis, Ray Arp and Maurice E. Witting.

Olin Miller comments: It is wondered why the man apprehended on a charge of entering another's house via the himney didn't plead that he was practicing up to be a New Dealer.

Students presented slapstick skits, gently needleing fatherhood in general. The meat loaf dinner was climaxed by a fancy jeulo dessert, prepared in the school kitchens in the school colors, red and white.

BETA SIGMA PHI

GRASS VALLEY: Members of the Beta Sigma Phi and their husbands enjoyed a dinner and dance one night last week at the Jopamavi Club in Glenbrook. It was birthday anniversary of the club. Highlight of the evening was the revealing of secret sisters. In charge of arrangements was Dorothy Thomas.

The rain is just as wet as it was last year. But there's more of it. Last year on this date the official rainfall read 7.82 inches but as the skies cleared on Saturday noon the 1946 rainfall totalled 11.68 inches or almost 25% of last season's 48.97 inches with still five months of downpours and light showers to come. If your house hasn't leaked or your basement flooded in the past week, relax, it couldn't have rained any harder—or could it have?
